HIRING THE RIGHT VIRTUAL ASSISTANT FOR YOUR LAW FIRM

Hiring the right virtual assistant for your law firm can be a game-changer. A virtual assistant can help with administrative tasks, scheduling, client communication, and more. When looking for a virtual assistant, it's important to consider their experience, skills, and availability.

It's also important to set clear expectations and establish strong communication to ensure a successful working relationship. Don't be afraid to ask for references or conduct a trial period to ensure the virtual assistant is the right fit for your law firm. With the right virtual assistant, you can save time and focus on growing your law practice.

When hiring virtual assistants, selecting the appropriate position is essential.

Assigning virtual assistants to positions where they can't work fast enough leads to failure.

Recommended first position: Reception/Intake.

Intake allows for faster learning of phone systems and intake scripts.

Learning complex systems or record labeling takes longer than learning phone systems or

A hyper-organized training system is necessary, especially for tasks like medical record retrieval and case management.

Struggles arise when the training system for tasks like medical record retrieval or sending letters of representation lacks perfect organization.

Perfect organization is essential for successful onboarding of virtual assistants to these tasks.